

MediaCity & Equans

MediaCity combines forces with Equans to achieve ambitious energy-saving targets and deliver net zero carbon status.

Alongside the essential maintenance services provided, the partnership between MediaCity and Equans has helped the estate to achieve significant energy and cost savings, with Equans bringing its technical management and energy expertise to support our sustainability initiatives.

In 2015, with Equans' support, we adopted the ISO 50001 standard for energy management – making us the first major UK property group to achieve this certification. From 2015, we have implemented over 250 energy saving projects across the portfolio.

Our award-winning partnership was recognised at the Premises & Facilities Management Awards (PFM) Awards in 2019; crowned winners of the PFM Award for Partners in Energy Management and Team Member of the Year.

Since operating ISO 50001, we have reduced our energy consumption by over 18%
